The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Jones to R. R. Murray, both of this city, was solemnized Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in Washington, D. C.

Their close friends had known for some time of their engagement, but did not know that their plans were so near maturity. The bride, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. J. Murray, and a guest at a Washington hotel for the past week, Mr. Murray having joined them there yesterday morning. The only witnesses to the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Craddock, uncle and aunt of the bride, and the bride's mother. Mr. and Mrs. Murray left on an evening train for a wedding journey which will include several northern cities before their return to Danville early in March.

Miss Jones is an attractive member of Danville's younger social set and is generally esteemed and admired.

Mr. Murray is known as a young business man, being formerly secretary of the Young Men's Business Club. He is now secretary-treasurer of the Baumann-Murray Company, but will in future have the active management of the firm. Upon his return Mr. and Mrs. Murray will reside at No. 119 Broad street.

Righteous Action Movement Given Hearing Wednesday

A telegram was received yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor from Senator Carter Glass, Washington, announcing that President Harding had granted an interview to a Danville delegation to present the "righteous national action" movement, initiated here recently by Mr. Taylor, setting Wednesday at 1 p. m. as the hour of the interview. Representatives from all the various national civic and welfare organizations of the city will compose the delegation. As the president is not receiving any delegations at present, Secretary of State Hughes has been designated to receive the Danville commission.

The delegation will memorialize the government to the end that the principles of Jesus be applied in the conduct of national and domestic affairs.

The memorialization is in accord with the recommendations of the President and Secretary Hughes on the matter of an international court of justice and entirely in keeping with the principles enunciated in the League of Nations covenant toward which there is a decided drift at the present time.

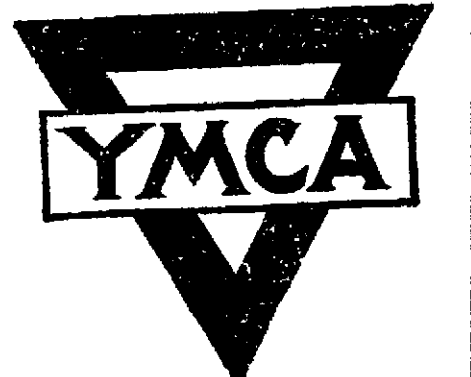

However, the proponents of the movement have not yet introduced side issues, keeping to the main point, which is:

"We the undersigned residents of Danville Virginia in view of the present crisis in civilization, summon each and all the officials to whom have been committed the government of the United States to apply the principles of Jesus with unswerving integrity and determination to all the domestic and foreign affairs of our nation."

The movement, which is unique has its inception in the mind of the Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, who first presented the project to the Ministerial Association, which gave it unanimous endorsement. The history of the movement reveals its rapid growth in this city. It was presented to the various organizations of the city of a national character and from all of these it received hearty endorsement. It was the subject of sermons in the city pulpit, a parade of school children proclaimed the idea in effective, though simple pageants.

Senator Carter Glass was asked to secure an audience with the President and his efforts along this line met with success.

It is the hope of the initiators of the movement that the idea will be taken up by other communities and grow to such proportions as to impress the nation with authority that the people really want the golden rule exercised in governmental affairs.

The Danville Y. M. C. A. is providing special exercise room which George N. Savage, physical director feels will fill a long-felt want.

"Many a business man," says Mr. Savage, "feels the need of regular and steady exercise but finds it impossible or inconvenient to get into the regular gymnasium classes of the Y. M. C. A. This new exercise room will give to such a man the opportunity of dropping in at the Y. M. C. A. and working out at any hour of the day."

The new room will be in a well lighted and well ventilated section of the basement adjoining the business men's locker room and will be equipped with striking bag chest weights, saw cuts, Indian clubs, dumb bells, etc.

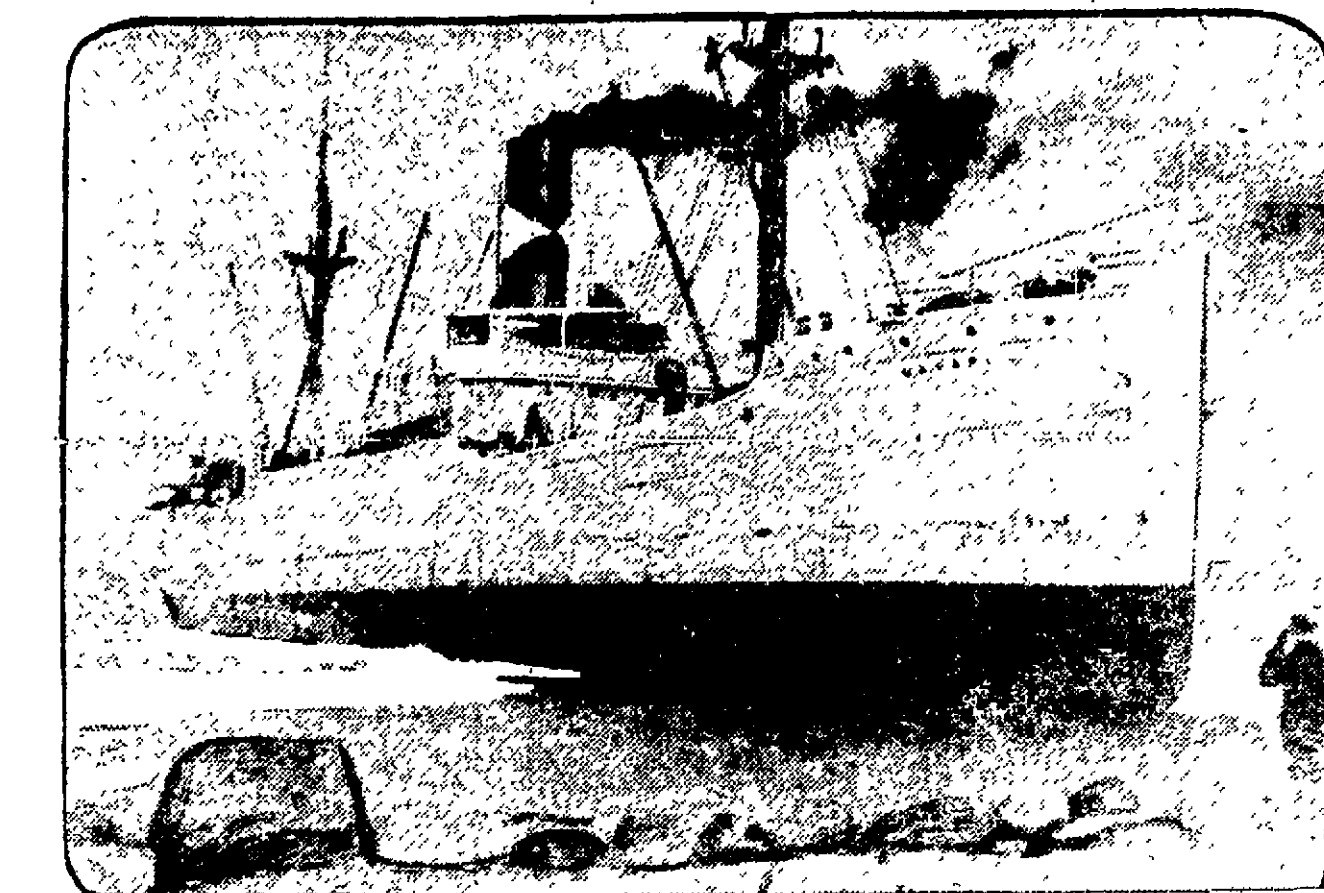

Mr. Savage plans to give individual attention to any business man who feels the need of a little coaching when he first begins to use this special exercise room. After the first lesson, however, the average man will be able to do on his own and "go through his stunts" alone or in company with one or two of his friends at any time to suit his convenience.

Practically every up-to-date Y. M. C. A. building is equipped with a room of the sort and the members of the local Y. M. C. A. are to be congratulated upon this forward step taken by the Danville Association.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BETTIE DILLARD HELD YESTERDAY

The funeral of Mrs. Bettie Dillard, an Arden woman who died in her 82nd year at Danville last Thursday night, was held at 11 o'clock Saturday morning from Danville's church at Chatham. The Rev. Mr. Faulkner, pastor of the church, conducted the service. Burial was made in the Arlington cemetery at Chatham. The pall bearers were Judge J. T. Clement, Edwin S. Reid, Parker Wagon, J. H. Hargrave, J. P. Hunt and Stansford S. Houp. The floral tributes were borne by all the friends of the family.

FRUIT STEAMER HIGH AND DRY

There's a sign on Hart's Island, N. Y., prohibiting vessels from landing. The United Fruit steamer Mayan disregarded the sign in a thick fog and here's the result.

SUNDAY "DROP-IN" GATHERING

The third of the travelogues given on Sunday afternoons at the Y. W. C. A. will be "The Grand Canyon of Arizona" and will be given this Sunday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium at 4 o'clock by Miss Walker Sneed of the Business Girls' Council. The talk will be illustrated by a number of colored slides of the exquisitely beautiful Grand Canyon. A complimentary card is extended to everyone to be present. A short social hour will follow the talk. Refreshments will be served.

Mid-Year High School Conference

A delegation consisting of Miss E. Anderson, girls' work secretary and Louise Hill, Yelva Barker, Mary Clark, Anna Berman, Alice Turberville and Gladys Poe left on Friday afternoon for the Mid-Year High School Conference held in Lynchburg this week-end. As a distinguishing feature the delegates were given bands of blue satin ribbon with "Danville" in gold letters, and tiny bolts ofingham given by the Riverdale Mills proclaimed the Danville delegation the proud residents of the cotton city.

Industrial Girls' Club Party

One of the most attractive parties ever given in the Y. W. C. A. was the Industrial Girls' Club on Friday evening. As the girls dressed, powdered haired ladies came gracefully into the rooms and sat down to the music of the piano. The girls, who have given a youthful face a piquant charm and voluminous skirts of bright hued materials enhanced the most sumptuous scene. The beautiful Y. W. C. A. lounge room seemed to have been transformed into a real West Coast picture. The young men wore the conventional costume of today. Games were played—some suggestive of the occasion. Refreshments were served later in the evening. Everyone was declaring the evening one of the happiest.

Y. W. C. A. Membership Campaign

The Young Women's Christian Association is planning a membership drive to begin March 1, lasting throughout the week. Every girl and woman is most cordially asked to become a member of the association, the largest national and international organization standing back of girlhood. It builds Christian womanhood. A house to house canvass will be made so that every one may be given an opportunity to be a part of this world wide movement.

There are now a few more than 700 members in the Danville Y. W. C. A. and this year is 1906. Girls and women use the Y. W. C. A. rooms each week for various needs. Is this worth while? If so, be a member and help it grow. Help the Young Women's Christian Association in solving its long problem. Join it because it seeks to serve all women regardless of membership, and a third very great reason why every girl and woman should be a member is that by increasing its membership it may become a tremendous force for good.

The Young Women's Christian Association is able to serve the needs of children so fittingly. It may provide your friends, your room, your place on your intellectual progress, your spiritual growth. Again, it may help you know your city and its people, because it points the way to our many service of the highest type. A better womanhood means a better city, a better nation, a better world.

HARVEY TELLS WHAT HE MEANT

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Ambassador George Harvey, speaking at the Royal Society of the dinner of the London Press Club tonight referred to a statement he is reported to have made on his recent visit to Washington that "America is well out of the whole mess," and said:

"I was glad that we were out of the mess as England would be glad if she were out of the mess. It isn't a question of the policy of a nation; it is a question of the necessity of action to do everything I can, and everything my country can, to help this simple girl in the terrible distress she is in—help her out of the mess she has got to get out of, and there is no help I could not go and my people could go, now that the wretched debt business is out of the way to help this girl."

Leper Mission Holds Meeting

Thursday afternoon the Leper Mission met with Mrs. George Davis on South Main street. The program consisted of articles read and several devotional songs by Misses Elizabeth and Frances Westbrooks. The hostess served sandwiches and tea. One item of particular interest was a clipping from the Danville Register, February 13, Associated Press, stated the House had passed a bill authorizing the appropriation of $50,000 to provide additional facilities for the National Leper's Home, Columbia, La.

Sponsors for the legislation started the number of lepers in the United States had been estimated to be between 500 and 1,200 and that in the interest of public health there was a demand for enlargement of buildings to accommodate a greater number. The capacity at present being for only 200 persons.

Statistics published by the International Board of Missions to Lepers state that the program of this branch of social service activity has been largely carried on by the prayers and gift of small groups of people.

The citizens of Danville recall with pride that the first Mission of Lepers organized in the United States was formed in Danville under the direction of Miss Tammie Harrison Patton in 1890. Since that time the work has been carried on by a yearly increasing number of members. The little "Pete Banks" have found a place in many homes as people have learned that by giving through these banks they were having a part in carrying out the command "Cleanse the Leper."

In the beginning the Mission had three objectives toward its members: 1st. To alleviate the sufferings of the Leper. 2nd. To Christianize the Leper. 3rd. To regenerate and educate the untainted children of Lepers.

Such a noble and selfless effort to do a remarkable extent and now scientific experiment gives reason to hope to reach the fourth objective. To rid the world of leprosy.

Miss Tammie Harrison is custodian of the "Pete Banks" for the city and vicinity and any one desiring to have a share in this work can obtain information and banks by communicating with her.

WEDNESDAY CLUB NOTES

Mrs. N. E. Clement of Chatham lectured to the club at its last meeting on "Pittsylvania county and Danville." The club rooms were filled with an audience of eager listeners intent on hearing for the first time many of the unwritten traditions of the county and city.

Mrs. Clement showed a very thorough and painstaking study of her subject, and evidenced by the judicious sources from which she gleaned material for her lecture. She stated that the earliest inhabitants were Indian tribes which had probably migrated westward from the mountains of the far northwestern part of the continent near Big River, at Sycamore and at Altavilla, also at the foot of Turkey Cock and Elk Horn mountains proved that the red man was at home in this vicinity before history records show.

She traced the history of the Indians of the country into districts, and later into counties, stating that the county seat was moved twice before Chatham was chosen.

The story of the history of Danville centered around "Wyn's Falls," as the falls in the Dan River were first called, the building of "Wyn's Inn." Nearly in order to commemorate the traveling public on its way north and south, and in 1818 when the first bridge was built across the river history takes on a more modern aspect.

At the conclusion of this interesting program delicious refreshments were served by the house committee.

The program for February 26th will be in charge of Miss Anne Carlington, who will give a talk on "Woman in Modern Drama." The meeting will commence at 8:45 p. m.

CHRISTOPHER BRAMBLE, of Brooklyn, Retired Chief Quartermaster U. S. Navy, who says his determination to try Tanlac was the wisest decision he ever made as the medicine completely restored his health.

Christopher Bramble, 753 Monroe St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Chief Quartermaster U. S. Navy, retired, is now an ardent champion of the merits of Tanlac.

"I'll stand by Tanlac to the very last," declared Mr. Bramble, "for it has helped me back on my feet and I am feeling like a new man now. I had suffered from stomach trouble for two years and was in an awful run-down condition. My appetite went back on me and when I did eat a little something I would suffer pain and misery for hours. My nerves were all out of me. I would be awake tossing and turning until almost day, and I felt weak and tired all the time I had no energy to do anything and just felt any way but right."

"Well I just kept on losing weight and getting worse until I concluded to try Tanlac, and that was the wisest decision I ever made. It's the only medicine I ever saw that does all they say it will. I now eat three hearty meals a day and never feel a touch of indigestion, and my appetite was never better in my life. If anybody bothers my sleep a sound and restful I get up mornings feeling refreshed and fine. My weight has increased and I have been built up until I never felt better in my life. If anybody doubts this statement just let them see me."

Methodist Church At Norfolk Is Swept by Flame

Park Place Edifice Costing
$250,000 Destroyed Early
Sunday Morning.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 25.—Park Place Methodist Church, at Colonial avenue and Thirty-fourth street, one of the handsomest structures in Norfolk, was destroyed by fire early this morning.

Starting in the Sunday school room, built of wood, at 12:10 o'clock, while half the city department was fighting a blaze in Main street, which threatened the Academy of Music, the fire jumped to the roof of the church, cut through, and swiftly spread through the interior.

The big dome toppled with a crash at 1:00 o'clock, less than an hour after the first alarm was turned in. Gaining force each moment, the flames, whipped by a breeze, soon wrecked the building until only the bare walls remained.

There was no one who could give a clear idea as to how the fire started, Frank Robert, deputy clerk of the corporation court, passing by on his way home just after midnight, saw a red spark rising from the frame structure alongside the church. At full speed he ran to Bell's Pharmacy, Thirty-fifth and Colonial, to give the alarm, but with another fire raging down town and a multitude of calls, he declared it took ten minutes to have the alarm registered.

Equipment in Main street, where fire in the 290 block, was showing stubborn resistance, was rushed to Park Place, while apparatus from Ocean View, Jersey and Portsmouth quickly was summoned.

There was some delay, according to church officials, and except for this, belief was expressed by the Rev. G. H. Newburg, the pastor, the church might have been saved. There were tears in Dr. Newburg's eyes, as he watched the mad sweep of the flames, which in a little more than an hour had utterly wrecked a structure, to replace which would cost a quarter of a million dollars.

The Sunday school room, used also as a gymnasium, fell an easy prey to the flames. Flying sparks from this structure, known as the annex, swept to the big dome and crashed to the ground. Standing in the glare that reached the neighborhood, they took counsel and announced that the services planned for their church today, would be held at the J. E. B. Stuart school.

The strong spirit of the Park Place congregation unbroken even in the face of disaster, was shown long before the big dome crashed to the ground. Good Morning Judge!

Eleven drunk cases and four Mapp act violations comprised most of the cases disposed of in the police court this morning. The comparatively large number of such violations was the accumulation over the week-end.

Two larceny cases were called but were continued pending further investigations by officers. They were against Margaret Jones and Mary Proutman arrested Friday for entering a residence on Wilson street and taking a ladies' coat. This particular case was sent to the court today. They are alleged to have confessed to other such robberies.

The women denied the charges of entering homes for the goods found in their possession, but are said to have confessed to the police at the time of their arrest, even going so far as to tell on what streets they operated. They now state that they bought the goods from a man whom they did not know. They are alleged to have entered homes when they found the front doors unlocked. It is their third offense.

Isaac Ingram drew a fine of $11.50 for having defective brakes on his auto.

James Wright, colored, was fined eleven dollars and costs for having a pint of cogn whiskey in his possession.

Ike Warren was assessed $101 and costs for operating an automobile while under the influence of whiskey. His brother W. C. Warren was fined the usual amount for being drunk.

Two men were arrested on Craighead street late Saturday night. The case of George Myers, charged with reckless driving, was continued until next Saturday.

Elhan Edmunds, colored, charged with creating a disturbance during a dance hall, was granted a continuance until Wednesday.

L. E. Layne, fined eleven dollars and costs for a violation of the Mapp act.

A. Wrenn, charged with not having proper license tags on his machine, was recognized to be back Saturday to answer the charge.

U. S. Warrant Is Out for Allen, Serious Charge

Paul Gray Plantation School in Goochland County Closed by Welfare Department.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 26.—While Helon Bertrand Allen, head of the Paul Gray Plantation school, of Sabot, Va., was being sought today by federal authorities on a warrant charging a serious offense, Frank Bane, state welfare commissioner, announced that all children formerly in the Sabot Hill home in Goochland county had been taken over by the state, and that the school no longer exists as an elementary institution.

He urged that no more contributions of funds be made to the Paul Gray or the Cowee Mountain school, of North Carolina, both of which Allen was the head.

Federal agents have been seeking to learn the whereabouts of Allen for some days, but he went from Richmond to New York several weeks ago and has not returned to Sabot Hill. From New York it is understood that he traveled to another city. According to information received in Richmond today, the Sabot Hill property is now being offered for sale.

Closing of the institution came Commissioner Bane declared this afternoon, because of many irregularities involving grave suspicions of immorality.

Despite the action of the state board, however, appeals have been made for funds for this school and for the Cowee Mountain school in North Carolina, which also no longer exists.

Mr. Bane said today that more than two years ago Mr. Allen purchased the Sabot Hill property and began to operate a children's home, incorporated as a benevolent institution under the name of the Paul Gray Plantation school.

The state department of public welfare's attention was almost invariably called to this institution and numerous visits and inspections were made. It developed that Mr. Allen had sold all of his holdings in North Carolina and was confining himself to the Virginia institution. The latter information was obtained from the North Carolina department of public welfare.

Due to many irregularities involving grave suspicions of immorality, the commissioner of public welfare recommended to his board that the institution be immediately closed. The board then met in special session and "in the light of all the facts as presented," was decided not to close the Paul Gray Plantation school. This resolution was signed by S. C. Hatcher, R. L. Brewer, Jr., and Frank Bane, commissioner.

Some days later the institution was formally closed and all children then present were committed to the state by the juvenile and domestic relations judge of Goochland county.

While this was in progress, a separate investigation on other charges was started by operatives of the department of justice, with the result that a warrant was finally issued charging Allen with violation of the Mann act. Since the warrant was placed in the hands of officers for service, however, Allen has not been located.

Col. A. E. Carrington, president of the city council probably will call an informal meeting of that body one day this week for the purpose of giving consideration to the budget of city expenditures during the next fiscal year. City Auditor Richard P. Moss has completed work on a comprehensive survey of expenditures of each city department for the past year but during the first eight months of the present fiscal year. This gives the amounts spent, for what purpose, and other data which will be of value in drawing plans for future expenditures. With this information in hand the council members will be enabled to see just where last year's income over and above current expenses went and what was accomplished in the way of civic improvement.

PAYROLL BANDIT CAUGHT IN OHIO

(By The Associated Press.)
CAMBRIDGE, O., Feb. 24.—Andy Vesceky, captured by a posse of county and city officials and armed coal miners in a deep gully in the hills of Southeastern Ohio, is in the county jail here tonight, charged with robbing Charles Moss, paymaster for the Akron Coal Company, of $16,000. The money was recovered shortly before Vesceky was apprehended.

Moss, who was shot in the arm by the robber, is in a local hospital, but the wound is said not to be serious. Vesceky refused to talk.

The scene of the hold-up is a lonely road between two mines owned by the Akron Coal Company. The miners at one time had been paid and the paymaster was on his way to King's Mine when a masked man stepped from behind a tree and ordered him to throw a suitcase containing the money from the automobile. Instead of obeying the command, Moss reached to his revolver.

Will Risk Lives to Scale Peak

BY H. B. BERMANN
(Special to The Bee)
ROBSON, B. C., Feb. 26.—Braving hardships greater than most arctic explorers face, four American youths will attempt to scale Mount Robson, highest peak in the Canadian Rockies—a mountain that has been climbed only twice and on both occasions during the summer months.

The four mountaineers are Jean Landry and Jacques Bernier, who have climbed many of the most difficult peaks in Europe and America, Lambert Sternberg, champion swimmer and all-around athlete, and Charles R. Perryman, cameraman. A temperature that frequently drops as low as 70 and 80 below zero, miles of snow, 10 feet deep and icy, leathery even skis and snow-shoes crush through it, thousands of feet of almost perpendicular ice rock—these are a few of the hazards the quartet must overcome.

Mount Robson, situated on the northeast boundary of British Columbia, 18 miles north of the Canadian National Railway—the northernmost railroad line in Canada—has long been a bugaboo for mountaineers.

Relatively low—in comparison with such mountains as Everest or McKinnley—Mount Robson presents such great difficulties, because of the climate and its physical characteristics, that some of the most intrepid Alpines have given up its conquest as impossible.

One of the greatest handicaps the mountain climbers confront is the fact they must carry for heavier packs than anyone who has attempted to scale the peak before.

The 12-pound sleeping bag, the food supplies and the ice-axes and ice-axes which all expeditions must carry are heavy enough—but in addition to these, the climbers will have to take a heavy motion picture outfit.

Three of the men—Bernier, Landry and Perryman—ascended Mount Robson, Washington, last winter—the first time that the climb was ever accomplished except in summer.

Uproar Over Dry Question Occurs In the House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Foes and friends of prohibition in the House met today in an oratorical encounter which kept the membership in an uproar for the better part of an hour and furnished a great deal of delight to crowded galleries.

Aroused by assaults on the Volstead Act by Representatives Gallivan, Democrat, and Tinkham, both of Massachusetts, Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, Upshaw, Democrat, Georgia, and other "dry" leaders hit back without mercy as these "wet" leaders shouted or applauded their approval.

Addresses of the Massachusetts members and more particularly that of Gallivan were characterized as "audacious snubs" and notice was given that prohibition would be enforced.

As the storm broke around them, the three "wet" leaders, Representatives Tinkham, Gallivan and Hill, Republican, Maryland, gathered together on a front row, conferring and laughing and occasionally seeking to interrupt the speakers.

"Why all this nonsense?" demanded Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, in closing the debate, "but for the two gentlemen from Massachusetts and the order of the day which charges Mr. Hill this house would be unanimously dry. They are three of a kind, but they could carry until eternity and never fill their hand."

"We'll draw a full house" in the next Congress," shouted Representative Hill.

"Four grandchildren will be 30 years old before you could do it," retorted Mr. Blanton.

Opening the discussion with a prepared address, Mr. Gallivan told the House that he had observed from a Washington newspaper that the Anti-Saloon League now proposed to make members of Congress "drink as they vote." He then announced that he would pause while "dry" members, who he said were in the majority, told them to vote and who take a drink and like a drink raised their hands.

"Why, Mr. Chairman," he said after this pause, "all I can see around this chamber is a lot of 'dry' members, even though a Senator got drunk the other night—a 'dry' Senator—and they had to stop him from answering a roll call, and it took two of his colleagues to hold him." Representative Blanton objected to such a reference to a Senator.

"I am not violating the rules of this house when I refer to 'dry' Senators getting drunk," returned Mr. Gallivan and a roar of laughter and applause.

Mr. Blanton said he observed from a newspaper on his point as members shouted "too late, too late." "I will say, Mr. Speaker," continued Mr. Gallivan, "that if the language with reference to the 'dry' Senator who is a friend of my friend from Texas, hurts his feelings."

"He is not a friend of mine," shouted Mr. Blanton.

"I withdraw the language," continued Mr. Gallivan.

The Texas delegate declared that members of the House had no right to refer to Senators. "Why the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Upshaw) a few months ago referred to half of the members of this House as drinking ruffians," declared Mr. Gallivan.

This was denied later by Mr. Upshaw who declared that the statement was not "born out by the facts and that a thing not a fact is absolutely false."

At the suggestion of Representative McGowan, Illinois, Mr. Gallivan withdrew the language to which Mr. Blanton objected and went on with his address in which he inveighed against the increasing cost of prohibition enforcement and predicted that the courts with liquor cases continued as a result of the sniping of "adulterated agents, the Department of Justice would become the 'pooh-bah of America.'"

He concluded, the Massachusetts member, caused a craning of necks by announcing that he would address the next paragraph of his speech "to the gentlemen who sit behind the clock in the gallery, the Honorable Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, the man who says it is lawless to agitate for the repeal of the Volstead law; say to him that he belongs to the tribe of Pharisees whose tombs have just been opened at Luxor after 3,000 years."

Replies by the "drys" were deferred until after Representative Tinkham had read into the Congressional Record a letter from William Dudley Foulke, of the national civil service league, to S. E. Nicholson, secretary of the Anti-Saloon League, in which the charge was made that the prohibition enforcement service was "corrupted from top to bottom by a set of depraved political officials as appointed under the spoils system which you promoted."

Mr. Foulke was protesting against a Senate bill proposing to place the present prohibition enforcement force under the civil service, a measure which he charged had the support of the Anti-Saloon League.

Making the first reply for the "drys," Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa, declared it was costing the government practically nothing, to enforce prohibition because of the fines and penalties collected from the violations of the Volstead Act.

Representatives Crampton followed with a denial that the Washington office to the Anti-Saloon League directing an investigation against members of Congress.

"It is necessary to get enforcement in this country to spend more than $14,000,000 we are going to do it," declared Mr. Cramton amid applause. Mr. Cramton had been recognized for only two minutes and asked unanimous consent to "extend and revise" his remarks in the record, but Mr. Gallivan objected and he was granted two or more minutes.

Representative Upshaw declared that if he were "as smart as Mr. Gallivan is supposed to be and could entertain people as he can I would not substitute my eloquence, learning and time by defending the liquor traffic or the saloon that is the trying place of anarchy and the gateway to hell."

Declaring that he would rather be a "wet" congressman voting "dry" than a "dry" congressman voting "liquor on other people," Representative Blanton said he did not believe there could be found a more "sober set of men" than the members of the Senate and House.

Joining in the debate, Representative Quinn, Democrat, Mississippi, said Mr. Gallivan need not be uneasy about a waste of money; that what he ought to be uneasy about is that he is violating the constitution of the law and causing some people to have contempt for the constitution itself.

Upshaw above the din of the applause "Good boy," shouted Representative that greeted this statement.

Fellowship of Prayer
Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches.
MONDAY
The Teacher's Need of Prayer

"He departed into the mountain to pray." Mark 6:46.
"Men become dilapidated as stone walls do. The virtues of the soul fade and decay and need to be rebuilt."
MEDITATION: If Jesus needed to pray, I cannot get on without it. Jesus climbed a mountain for better praying. I cannot afford to be careless in my devo-tions.
HYMN:
O thou, by whom we come to God,
The Life, the Truth, the Way,
The path of prayer thyself hast trod;
Lord, teach us how to pray.
PRAYER: O Almighty God, from whom every good prayer cometh, and who pourest out on all who desire it the spirit of grace and supplication; deliver us, when we draw nigh to thee, from coldness of heart and want of devotion; that with steadfast thoughts and kindled affections we may worship thee in spirit and in truth; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S UNEX-PECTED MESSAGE.

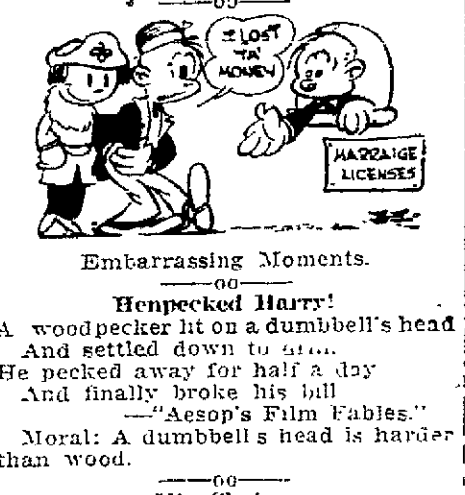

The *Asso-*ciation of support which will be given in the Senate to President Harding's proposed participation in European affairs through membership in the International Court set up under the League of Nations, will de-pend very largely upon the extent of our involvement in affairs abroad. For that reason, probably, Senate leaders are chary of expressing an opinion on the sudden and unexpect-ed message which was presented to the Senate on Saturday. There is something vague about the responsi-bilities which this country would shoulder on taking a place in the court and until these obligations are better defined under the scrutiny of the foreign relations committee which will study the proposal tomorrow, there will be continued reluctance on the part of many members of the Senate committing themselves on this issue. Of course, those Senators, not-ably Democrats, who were fully in ac-cord with President Wilson's proposed national unity are gratified over the development, and have already ex-pressed readiness to support the the-ory as outlined by the president. To them it is the first step towards a long-cherished ideal and they are willing to assist in its materialization, no matter how skilfully the president seeks to enter the league under the camouflage of another name.
The president's decision is one of the most important reached during his administration. It is the first step towards a complete change in Repub-lican policy and is in itself an avowal that this country must inject itself into the European field if the peace of the world is to be brought about and an end put to the confusion and chaos which is growing among the foreign char-acteristics. To what extent leader-ship of this nation in restoring Europe to a more stable condition will be hampered by restrictions remains to be seen. A vote in the international court is a small thing in itself but that intangible quality of American influence which has been so eagerly sought by all countries since the de-finite policy of isolation was adopted will prove a tremendous power in solving the numerous difficulties which sooner or later will find their way before the tribunal.

CHARLEMAGNE TOWER DIES

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—Charle-magne Tower, diplomat and finan-cier, who died today in the Pennsil-vania Hospital here, will be buried Monday. Services will be held in Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church.
Mr. Tower died of pneumonia. He had been in the hospital since Feb-ruary 9. Today, after apparently re-lying from a relapse, he fell into a deep sleep, which ended with his death. Members of the family were at his bedside.
Mr. Tower was in his 75th year. He had been ambassador to Russia and Germany and minister to Austria-Hungary. Both here and abroad he was prominent socially and was noted for the lavishness of his entertain-ments. From his father he inherited a large fortune, accumulated for the most part in the coal fields of Pen-sylvania.

Scoop's Colym

DRAKES BRANCH, February 26.
(Grape) The Wireless.—The best read-ing matter is in bank books:
A man who could neither read nor write ap-plied for a job as janitor in a church. When the church board learned he was illiterate it refused him the job.
But he soon found an-other, and being thrifty, he saved enough to start in business and ten years later he had a large store and a bank balance of $250,000.
A chance came to him to buy the property he occupied and a friend, not knowing his worth, ad-vised him to go to the bank and make a loan.
When he asked the bank cashier for a loan of $100,000 the cashier showed surprise and replied: "But you have a balance of $250,000 in this bank. Of course, if you would rather sign a note, we will gladly advance you the loan." The man admitted he couldn't sign his name, so never drew out any of his money.
"My goodness, man, think of it. If you can make a quarter million in ten years without being able to read nor write, what would you have been had you had an education?" the cashier inquired.
"I would be a janitor in a church," replied the merchant.

Embarrassing Moments.

Playing the Game:
Little Jessie was making a terrible noise while playing with another Jimmie. So Mamma called to her:
"Gracious, Jessie, why are you shouting in the terrible manner? Why can't you be quiet, like Jimmie?"
"He's got to be quiet, the way we're playing," replied Jessie. "He's Papa, coming home from the lodge, and I'm you."

Trapper Bags Three-Legged Range Outlaw

ELY, Nev., Feb. 23.—The Wild West is no more. No longer in No-vada is the boast heard from the lips of Black Bart and other desperadoes that they would never die with their boots off. They died as they lived and are no more.
Only the desperadoes of the animal kingdom claim a charitable ex-cuse in their outlawry now. And when it was said by the ranchers of White Pine County that no trap would "ever hold" "Gimpy," three-footed despoiler of countless barn-yards and the cause of an annual loss of $500 in that vicinity many believed even as they believed the risible mouthings of Black Bart. They even went so far as to say that the bullet never made that would lay "Gimpy" low.
From the almost impassable stretches of White Pine County came the rumor recently that "Gimpy" had been shot—dead with his boots on, as it were.
This week "Gimpy's" hide is on the way to the fur market.
"Gimpy's" life was only a coyote's life, and his hide was only a coyote's hide—somewhat larger and more val-uable than others, perhaps, but the law has taken his life and his hide, and only the story remains—the al-most legendary tale of a three-footed desperado of the frontier.
"Gimpy" lost his left front foot is not of record, but his ability to steal into a barnyard, even by day, snatch a turkey or a chicken and make a getaway into the hills is well known.
Ranchers knew him from his work long before they ever saw him. Phil Aljets got the first view of "Gimpy's" three legs three years ago, and "Gimpy" got his name.
While lying down and pretending to sleep, as all the wolf family do to make an easy catch, a big house cat came out of the Smith's George-town ranchhouse. The cat came too close, and "Gimpy" grabbed him. As Tom escaped, torn and bleed-ing, "Gimpy" came into full view, and Phil Aljets came over at the first shot from his rifle. "Gimpy" wounded, fled.
He was seen frequently after that by cowboys and ranchers, but never when anyone had a rifle. Meanwhile his hide, like sheep and occasion-ally a prize calf vanished. "Gimpy" was blamed.
A price was put on his head. A half dozen Government trappers went after him. The trapper "Gimpy" would pack off the poisoned meat, and in so doing he was listed in Gov-ernment statistics as dead. But "Gimpy" was not dead.
A few weeks ago a new trapper drifted in. A week ago there was "Gimpy" in the flesh—and his good front foot in a trap. It had snowed for a week, and the trapper had stayed too close to the barnyard, and "Gimpy" became hungry and care-less.
The trapper was glad to see him, but "Gimpy" was angry. The "kik" put up a terrific battle. But the trapper tapped "Gimpy" on the head and sent him to his happy hunting grounds.
Johnny Bell identified the carcass. Left front foot gone; creased across nose—not shot in shoulder, as sup-posed. It was "Gimpy."
A few yards away in another trap "Gimpy's" wife, "Gimpy's" bride, was not known by sight or name. But she was traveling with him, as this was the mating season. Call her "Mrs. Gimpy." It fits you better. The words of the "Gimpy" family are no more.
Steptoe Valley is freed of "Gimpy," the "killer." He died with his boots on.

HIGH EXPLOSIVES WERE CAPTURED

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The seiz-ure of 15 cases of hand grenades and high explosives being unloaded from a truck into a basement in the Chelsea district tonight led to the discovery of 100 more cases, which had been secreted in a river front lodging house.
A few minutes later city and fed-eral authorities had uncovered in the Chelsea district some 200 rifles, 50 machine guns and large quantities of steel-jacketed machine gun ammu-nition in all.
The explosives in huge packing cases were addressed to "S. C. S. New York," and to Arthur Leubinger, 263 West Thirty Fourth Street. All were labelled "precaution high ex-plosives—handle with care."
BODY OF DR. MACARTHUR WILL BE BROUGHT NORTH
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Members of the family of Rev. Robert Stuart MacArthur, president of the Baptist World Alliance, who died yesterday at Daytona, Florida, announced to-day that the body would be brought North for burial.
Dr. MacArthur founded and was first pastor of Calvary Baptist church where he served for 41 years.
He resigned in 1911 and became pastor emeritus, but in 1922 he severed all connections with the church, following a disagreement with the pulpits utterances of the Rev. John H. Straton, the present pastor. Dr. MacArthur's action was hastened by the sensational nature of a debate between Dr. Straton and William A. Brady, theatrical man-ager.
Dr. MacArthur was born in Dal-esville, Quebec, in 1841.

Find Girl's Body; Clears Up Mystery

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 24.—The body of Miss Mildred Wilson Ward, of the LaRoche Apartments was found today in Jones Falls, under the North Avenue Bridge, thus solving the mys-tery of her disappearance yesterday morning, errors from her home to the office of her bankers downtown.
No marks of violence indicating foul play were evidence and police believe she committed suicide.
After her disappearance was reported to the authorities last evening a city-wide search was begun which contin-ued without intermission until her body was found today.
Miss Ward, who was 46 years old, was the daughter of Mrs. Henrietta P. Ward and the late Henry Ward. She was prominent in society for years but had of late retired, somewhat to be close to her mother, whose health is poor.

THE ONE-MAN WOMAN—NO. 67.

ALICE'S LETTER

By Ruth Ames Abell

THE windows had been darkened. Only the slit of light visible from the glass of the door which closed after Kate with a foolish thump.
The sound jured unpleasantly. It seemed out of place to Kate, incon-sistent, mocking, because below its silly single hung the thin insignia of Alice's end.
There was a creak on the door of Sing Loy's laundry.
Some women passed as Kate stood for a second and looked at the fabric, caught with a spray of starch and shining slightly in the night breeze.
"I heard one of them Chinamen's wives is dead; they say she was a white girl, too."
Kate caught the words as the wo-men passed.
This, then, was to be the end of the little butterfly girl who dared defy life and death—one of them Chinamen's wives. In death, Alice, like the man at the morgue, was nameless so far as the rest of the world was concerned. No one knew, no one cared, whether their paths had run parallel courses.
Each had turned to a bit of hu-man clay with which the Potter had finished.
Latham was waiting at the curb in his car.
"What did you want of Sing Loy?" he asked as Kate seated herself.
It was nearly midnight. The streets were quite deserted.
"I had a letter that I thought he would see," thoughtfully.
"And then," she continued, after a pause, "when he came and I looked it over I felt that he shouldn't see it after all and I didn't read it to him."
"I have it here," she was still speaking slowly. She took the paper out of her purse and then replaced it.
"It was going to let you see it," she said, "but I haven't the right. It belonged to Alice. Alice it should have been buried with her."
"Now take me home—as fast as you can. I'm tired." Her tone was weary.
She settled back in the car Kate found herself more worn out than she had known. The day had been a

BEGIN HERE TODAY
SIR NORMAN GREYES, formerly of Scotland Yard, joins the chase of MICHAEL SAYERS, famous criminal. Sayers, masquerading as Thomas Fugley, broker, is recog-nized by Greys as a man who sends a Police Inspector to arrest Sayers on the street. Sayers shoots the in-spector and escapes.
Known at the golf club as James Stanfield and suitably disguised, Michael is introduced to Sir Nor-man, Janet Soale, maid in the home of Sayers, is secretly in love with her master. Detecting a policeman following Michael, James shoots the officer through the forehead, killing him and escapes.
Both recognize the man. Greys becomes suspicious that James Stanfield is in reality Michael Sayers, the master criminal.
NOW GO ON WITH STORY
MICHAEL CONTINUES
"I SHALL be only too pleased," I told him, "my staff is rather limited, as I am only here occa-sionally. My gardener is out for the afternoon, so there only remains my maid-servant."
I LED the way into the house. Janet was busy in the kitchen, but came at once to our sum-mons. As usual, she was wonder-fully neat, and her manner, although reserved, was perfectly open.
"We want to know," my compan-ion asked, "whether there have been any callers at the house this after-noon?"
"None, sir," she replied, "except the boy with the chicken I ordered for the master's dinner."
"Have you seen anyone about the place?"
"No one, sir."
"Did you hear anything which might have been the report of a pistol?"
"Nothing at all, sir."
"Have you been outside the house yourself?"
The girl shook her head.
"I have had no occasion to go out, sir," she replied. "I have been busy in the kitchen."
Greys nodded, and dismissed her after a few more unimportant ques-tions. Soon a police inspector ar-rived, and the doctor. I let them visit the scene of the crime alone. As soon as they had gone, I went up-stairs. I looked in my tie-drawer for the small revolver. It was not there. I looked in the bottom drawer, which I had left locked, for the clothes which I had worn when I had made my escape. The drawer had been forced open, and the clothes, too, and disappeared. Then I realized that I was faced with a problem. Someone had penetrated my defenses. I had been—I proba-bly still was—in danger. I went down to the study and summoned Janet once more to my presence. When she arrived, I took my seat be-fore her and the door. I made her face the window. Down in the shrubbery the police inspector was still talking to Greys.
"Do you know anything about this affair which you did not tell Sir Nor-man Greys?" I asked her.
"Yes, sir," she replied.
I looked at her thoughtfully. She was very bright and sharp in the gray twilight. Her eyes met mine without flinching. I have been an indifferent student of women's looks, but I realized then that they were a very beautiful though rather a cruel color, greeny-brown of a light shade, with delicate lashes and finely cut eyebrows. There was a passionate curve to her lips which I had never before noticed. Her hair was brown and lustrous.
"You had better tell me every-thing, Janet," I enjoined.
"Soon after you had gone out," she said, "the man who lies in the tool-house came here and asked me questions about you. He made his way into your bedroom. He was anxious to see the clothes in which you had travelled down. He opened the bottom drawer of your wardrobe

POWER IS NOTED
CLEVELAND, Feb. 24.—As a result of the greatly increased industrial ac-tivity throughout this section, Ohio power plants have been called on to produce what has been a record out-put for January and half of February. The Ohio commission on Public utility information today predicted that all records for production of Ohio elec-trical energy production would be broken in 1933.

gerous woman, but a clever one. I was not brought up to be a servant. I am fit to be your companion. That is my hope."
"I have never trusted a woman in my life," I told her.
"You will trust me," she declared in a low tone. "You will remember what I have done for you today. I am the woman who was made to complete your life. You had better realize it and make use of me. You will not regret it."
She came a little closer to me, and though women have never been more than the toys of my idle mo-ments, I felt the passion of her strike into my heart. My senses were aflame. I saw life differently. Her voice became softer and more sibil-ant. She was like some beautiful animal. Her eyes were appealing, but inhuman.
"You will marry me," she con-tinued. "I have a fancy about that, and I insist. Then think of the bene-fit. It disaster should come, I shall never be able to give evidence against you. But there will be no disaster. I know how clever you are. I too have brains. Say that I mean something to you. I have given proof of my devotion. Repay me."

I took her into my arms. There was a savage fire in her kiss which warmed my blood, a fierce delight in her strange-colored eyes which amazed while it enthralled me. This modern Borgia seemed to have fastened herself on to my life. The figures of the men in the little wood grew more shadowy.
"Where is the pistol?" I whispered, holding her away from me for a moment.
"Where no one will ever find it," she answered.
"Burn the clothes?"
"Burned. I run no risks when your safety is in question."

The searchers came back to the house half an hour or so later. They were busy rubbing the handle of my putter. Janet was in the kitchen, preparing my dinner. Greys ac-cepted a whisky and soda. He looked tired and a little dejected.
"Any luck?" I asked him under my breath, as he prepared to take his leave.
He shook his head.
"So far as circumstantial evidence is concerned," he admitted, "I am afraid we shall be in a bad way. A more brutal murder I never remem-ber. A young man, too, with a wife and three or four children, simply out to do his duty. If—"

He stopped short, swallowed a lit-tle sob in his throat, and turned away.
"I hope that you will give me an-other game of golf some day," Mr. Stanfield said, as he prepared to take his leave.
"With great pleasure," I assented.

Sir Norman Greys' Decision

YESTERDAY the inquest on poor Richard Ladbroke, after hav-ing been twice adjourned, re-sulted in a verdict of murder against some person or persons unknown. The verdict itself is a terrible reflec-tion upon our present criminal methods. It puts at the strings of my conscience with sickening in-tensity. Ladbroke had found a clay which he confided to no one. He had travelled down to Woking in search of the missing man Fugley—or Michael Sayers, as I believe him to have been. He must have been murdered there either by Fugley himself or some confederate; yet not one of us has been able to lay our hands upon a single shred of evi-dence. I have been unable to tear myself away from the place. I have had several games of golf with Mr. Stanfield, and I have dined with him once at his house—a very excellent dinner and wonderfully cooked. He is desirous of offering a small reward for the apprehension of the mur-derer, but at present I have not en-couraged him. I do not want a crowd of people stirring up the waters. I have not as much to anyone—not even to him; but I am making it the object of my life to lay my hands upon the so-called Thomas Fugley. The day I find him, the mystery of Ladbroke's murder will be solved. And I shall find him!
"The Kiss of Judas," second story of this remarkable series, will begin in our next issue.

IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITIONS ARE NOW INDICATED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Official reports received in the economic system of Europe, first effects of which are expected to be felt within a few days when loans guaranteed by Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Holland, Sweden, Denmark and Spain are to be made to Austria to aid her in recovery from present economic distress.

The action of these nations, themselves in financial and economic difficulties, was characterized by the reports as an example without parallel in European history. One view expressed today among diplomats in Washington, was that in contributing to the financial solvency of Austria, Europe had heeded the advice that she help herself before appealing to America for assistance. A summary of official diplomatic advice received here points out that in London conferences of the principal allied powers in August 1922, when the council of the League of Nations was asked to suggest remedial measures, it was agreed that the action taken was to be solely in the interests of Austria and general peace and no financial or economic advantage was to be gained by any power.

The report of the council in October, last year resulted in the Austrian loan underwritten by members of the League and in Great Britain, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Czechoslovakia and Czechoslovakia necessary legislation has been enacted while official information is said to be that Holland, Sweden, Denmark and Spain will also approve the guarantees soon.

DISABLED SOLDIERS MAKE USEFUL ORNAMENTS FROM SEIZED COPPER STILLS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 24.—A new use for the copper were used by moonshiners in the illicit manufacture of prohibited liquors has been found by United States Marshal Sittel.

Instead of selling the wrecked stills, filters and other copper utensils seized by prohibition agents to junk dealers who pay little for them, the marshal, with the consent of Federal Judges Bledsoe and Tippet, is donating the copper to disabled soldiers, who convert it into desk ornaments, book holders and other useful articles.

NEGRO MURDERS M. L. CROSS, WHITE

(By The Associated Press)
GAINESVILLE, Fla., Feb. 24.—M. L. Cross, white, an employee of the Florida State road department with headquarters here was shot and killed here tonight by an unidentified negro while Cross was making a purchase in a store. Shortly before the killing Cross and several friends brushed against a crowd of negroes standing on the street. One of the negroes remarked that he would "get him" but no attention was paid to the threat at that time. The negro who killed Cross is believed to have been the one who made the threat.

A posse of 600 men was organized to search for the negro.

Cross is survived by his widow.

ELIMINATION OF BOLL WEEVIL BY ZONING

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 24.—Elimination of the boll weevil by zoning the cotton of Alabama for a period of five years can be accomplished with an expenditure of about $500,000,000 Dr. Hudson Maxim, noted scientist, said in interview here today. Dr. Maxim's plan provides for the dividing of the south into zones beginning at the Atlantic coast. The first year, no cotton would be grown in a section extending from the coast 300 miles westward. The next year, the 300 mile zone would be extended 150 miles to the west thereby overlapping an area 150 in width. This work would continue until the cotton section had been covered. If the government appropriated $100,000,000 to carry on the work and reimburse the farmers, Mr. Maxim said.

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Feb. 24.—A decision to replace the German railroad administration in the Ruhr with an allied civil administration was officially announced tonight as one result of the conference here between Premier Theunis of Belgium and Premier Fournier.

Representatives of the French Ministry of Public Works and the State Railroads are leaving Dusseldorf tonight to confer with Generals De Goutte and Pavot and Paul Fierard, president of the International Rhine-Ruhr Commission.

The civil administration will hold the same position, as regards its relations with the military occupational authorities, as did the German administration. The director of the railroads will be French with two deputies, one French and the other Belgian.

GERMAN GUANO CONCERN SUED

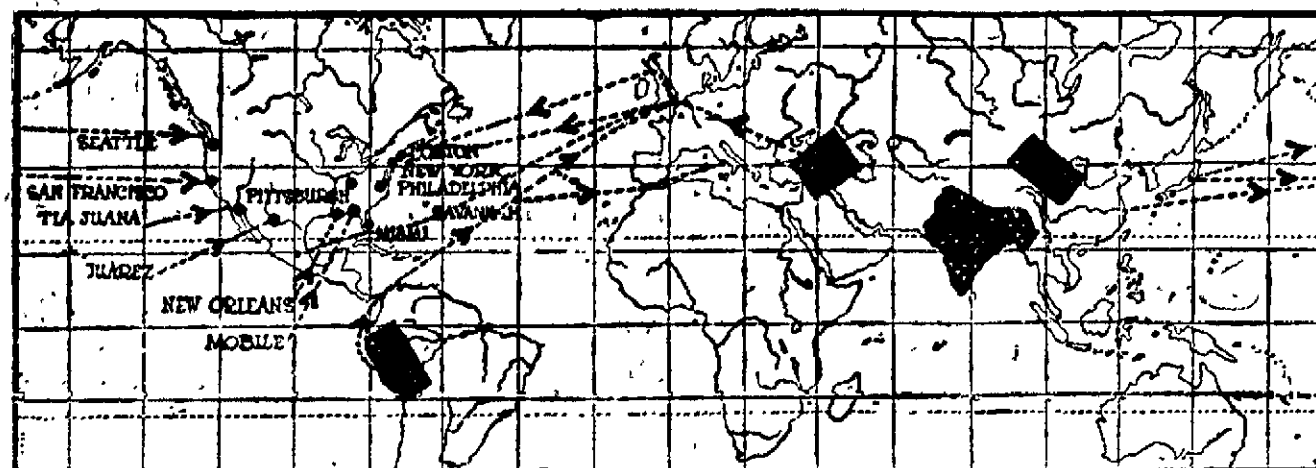

(By The Associated Press)
CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 24.—Suits seeking damages aggregating $767,084.65 from the Kallischmidt, a German concern for failure to deliver potash and fertilizer materials purchased prior to the outbreak of the world war in 1914 were filed in the court here today by three Charleston fertilizer concerns. The materials are alleged to have been on board the steamer Drusberg at Hamburg, Germany at the outbreak of the war and to later have been sent to the interior of Germany and sold.

The complaints allege that demand was made for delivery of the materials but the company failed to do so. They also allege that no companies were prevented from taking legal steps for recovery by entry of the United States into the world war. Interest from April 6, 1917 is asked in each case.

The Etliwan Fertilizer Company asks a total of $293,645.25 and interest in two cases, the Combahee Fertilizer Company $100,426.20 and interest, and the Planters Fertilizer and Phosphate Company $361,009.17 and interest.

Besides these principal sums the Etliwan Company seeks $8,266.63 in damages due it, the Combahee Company $2,842.50 and the Planters Company $4,143.85.

Nation's Illicit Dope Traffic

WORLD "DOPE MAP" SHOWING (SHADED PORTIONS) WHERE RAW MATERIALS FOR HABIT-FORMING DRUGS ARE PRODUCED AND WHERE THEY ENTER THE UNITED STATES.

(By HARRY HUNT)
(Special to The Bee)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Half a billion dollars worth of dope—body-weakening, mind-destroying, morals-reviling drugs.

Almost five dollars worth for every man, woman and child in the United States.

That, according to estimates gleaned from official sources here, is the yearly volume of business transacted through the hands of illicit drug peddlers in this country.

Not only are the drug-traffickers enriched by smuggled dope but an astounding proportion of that imported through regular channels falls into the hands of illegitimate dispensers. Last year's importations amounted to 292,971,000 grains.

"Of this amount," says Colonel L. G. Nutt, chief of the narcotic section, Bureau of Internal Revenue, "we estimate from 65 to 80 per cent. found its way into illicit channels."

Estimating the amount of smuggled dope at approximately the amount brought in openly, or from 275,000,000 to 300,000,000 grains, a total of at least half a billion grains handled through illicit channels is declared.

Here is what this means in the way of profits to the dope sellers:

"Morphine, at wholesale from the manufacturer, brings from a cent to a cent and three-quarters a grain," says Colonel Nutt. "Our men are buying it from dope peddlers at from 50 cents to as high as $5 a grain."

"The average price to the dope user, we find, is about $1 a grain. In many cities, however, it brings $2 or better. I would place the average at least at $1 a grain."

Which means a "dope" bill to users in this country of at least $500,000,000 a year.

"The great bulk of the dope," says Colonel Nutt, "comes from Amsterdam, Paris, London, Glasgow and some from Germany, Spain and Italy."

"It comes in chiefly through the eastern and gulf ports—Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Mobile and New Orleans. The amount entering through Pacific ports—San Francisco and Seattle—I believe to be relatively small."

"Undoubtedly large amounts of dope reach this country also by way of Mexico, Guaymas and Tijuana are perhaps the principal points of entry."

WHITE MAN IS CONVICTED OF KILLING NEGRO

(By The Associated Press)
GREENVILLE, Ga., Feb. 24.—Will Hendrix, 25-year-old white man was convicted of the charge of murder today in connection with the killing of Mattie Cox, 18-year-old negro girl, last November. The jury recommended mercy and he was sentenced to serve a life term.

On the witness stand in his own defense yesterday, Hendrix accused his father D. G. Hendrix, of the murder. The father will go on trial on Tuesday, charged with the same crime.

During the trial of the case, an alleged plot was uncovered to force the negro girl to return home in her dying state. Hendrix was accused of shooting her, while Bill Woodward, a negro, the only eye-witness of the crime, said the younger Hendrix killed her.

STANDARD PAY FOR EMPLOYEES

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A compromise bill to standardize salaries of government employees was reported today by the Senate Appropriations Committee, after conferences between President Harding and Senators Smoot, Republican, Utah, and Sterling, Republican, South Dakota and was referred to the Senate Civil Service of which Senator Sterling is chairman with enactment planned before Congress adjourns.

The new principle of the bill is a provision for equal pay for male and female employees engaged upon the same class of work.

If the bill should fall of enactment before Congress adjourns it is the intention of leaders to provide for continuing their present bonus payments.

Swanson Opposes Gauthier As P. M. Bristol, Virginia

(By GEORGE H. MANNING)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The opposition to the appointment of Charles F. Gauthier as postmaster at Bristol, Virginia, has been shot to pieces, but Senator Claude Swanson still insisted today that he will prevent confirmation by the Senate before Congress adjourns on March 4th.

Senator Swanson's opposition is based on an anonymous letter which charges that Gauthier obtained Congressman Slomp's endorsement for the office through his subscription of a large amount to the Republican campaign in the Ninth District, it was learned today.

When asked regarding the appointment and confirmation of Gauthier today, Senator Glass stated he believed it would go through without delay, but that was before he was advised by the committee that Senator Swanson was blocking confirmation based on the anonymous letter. He had heard of no opposition to Gauthier, Senator Glass said, but indicated he would not interfere with Senator Swanson in this matter.

Representative Slomp is very bitter about Senator Swanson's opposition to Gauthier, believing it very unfair to him and also to the nominee.

"When the Bristol newspaper first came out about three weeks ago with the inference that money had been improperly in connection with Mr. Gauthier's appointment, I went to Senator Swanson and asked him what we could do about it," said Representative Slomp today. "Senator Swanson suggested that I have the charges investigated by postal inspectors, assuring me that if they cleared Gauthier his appointment would go through all right."

"I had the investigation made and the inspectors reported there was no basis for the charges. Then I had Gauthier nominated and believed in all good faith, that Senator Swanson would have it confirmed."

"But now Senator Swanson is holding the confirmation up on an anonymous letter that should not be recognized."

Mr. Gauthier has been in Washington several days trying to clear the matter up. Yesterday, in company with District Attorney Lewis P. Summers, he called on Senator Tamm, chairman of the Senate Post-office Committee, which handles postmaster nominations and other members of the committee.

Of the urging of Gauthier and Summers, it is learned the Senate committee has decided to report the Gauthier nomination favorably to the Senate and ask for confirmation.

That is, unless Senator Swanson, to either approve or object to it. With only one week remaining of this session of Congress Senator Swanson could easily block Gauthier's confirmation by asking for delay to per-reasonable.

Very little reaches us by way of Canada.

The coca leaves, from which cocaine is derived, are imported from Peru and Bolivia.

The gum opium which contains the morphine and other opium salts and alkaloids used as dope, comes from Persia, Turkey, India and China.

Drugs which left the wholesaler at about $4,000,000 in value are finally dispensed by the dope peddler at $200,000,000 or more.

Last year federal narcotic agents seized no less than 11,000 ounces or 30,000,000 grains of dope. Most of this was European made.

An effort is to be made to check the drug traffic at its source. A resolution now pending before the House Foreign Affairs Committee requests the president to call upon Great Britain, Holland, Persia, Turkey, Peru and Bolivia "to restrict the production of habit-forming narcotic drugs to the amount required for medicinal and scientific purposes."

Unless this is done, narcotic agents admit, wholesale smuggling and sale of dope will continue to wreck thousands of lives and cost hundreds of millions annually to America.

mit him to investigate the circumstance. This he will likely do.

Mr. Gauthier claimed here today that nine-tenths of the leading Democrats of Bristol favor his appointment, and the Republicans almost unanimously are in opposition to Gauthier, it is claimed, is being directed or inspired by a Bristol Republican who wanted the postmaster-ship himself.

If Senator Swanson continues to block the Gauthier nomination until the session of Congress ends, it is almost certain he will be given a recess appointment by President Harding shortly after March 4th, so that he can at once take over the post-office. The question of confirmation can then be decided at the next Congress session.

MARITIME LAW AGREEMENTS MADE PUBLIC

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A summary of three international agreements proposed by the international conference on maritime law which met at Brussels last October, was made public today by the State Department.

The United States was among the 26 countries represented at the conference. The proposed conventions, all highly technical in form, would cover the limitation of the liability of ship owners, maritime mortgages and liens and rules for the carriage of goods on the sea.

"The conference proposed," said the Department's announcement, "that the exact terms of the suggested conventions be agreed upon through the usual diplomatic channels or at a future meeting of the conference."

The American representation at the conference have submitted a report which is now under consideration at the State Department. Decisions as to American action awaits receipt here of the official record of the proceedings at Brussels.

School For Paris 'Mims' Projected

(By ALICE LANGELIER)
PARIS, Feb. 24.—"A university for Mimi Pinson is what is needed in Paris today," writes Emile Faure, General Counsellor of the Department of the Seine, in Le Journal.

For the demoiselle du monde there are universities and schools a-plenty, literary societies and clubs where one hears good music. But how can Mimi Pinson, the little working-girl, and her many sisters, fill in their long evenings? "The cinema and the dance-hall take too much of their time," continues Monsieur Faure. "They, too, have the right to a minimum of artistic education and wholesome pleasure."

The counsellor proposes to establish evening classes in music and literature, as well as dressmaking, millinery, bookkeeping and stenography, etc. Instruction will be given free of all charge to girls who have small resources. At the same time Monsieur Faure studies the problem of lending assistance to country girls coming to work in Paris. Most of them arrive in the city with no work and no means of finding suitable lodgings. According to his plan, a large information bureau will keep in touch with business openings in commercial houses and dressmaking establishments. It will also undertake to place the girl in reliable positions. A large library, abundantly supplied with literature, will help them to pass pleasant hours of leisure, and in the large concert room they will be able to dance and sing and make merry with all the other little Parisian Mimis.

"The milk that good cooks use"

7½ teaspoons of butter fat in every 16 oz. can

Cream and butter are great enrichers of foods simply because they contain lots of butter fat.

Now you can get a milk that is rich in this same substance, yet so inexpensive you can use it freely in your regular cooking!

It's Libby's Milk—generally known as "the milk that good cooks use."

When you consider that there are 7½ teaspoons of pure butter fat in every 16 oz. can of this milk you can see that it must give better results in cooking. But now you may wonder how any milk can contain so much of this enriching substance.

Cow's milk made double rich

As you know, there are certain sections of this country which are famous for their dairy products, where fine pasture lands encompass wooded hills and fresh streams that flow through grassy valleys. Cows naturally produce their finest milk where nature and man combine to help them.

And you know, too, that certain kinds of cows give richer milk than others.

Libby gets milk only from selected herds in these favored sections.

Then we make it double rich by evaporating more than half the moisture from it. Nothing is added to it; none of its food values taken away. Libby's Milk is just the finest cow's milk in the land, made double rich, then carefully sealed and sterilized in air-tight cans so you can get it fresh and pure no matter where you live.

Greater richness, finer flavor

Order a can of Libby's Milk from your grocer today. See what new richness, what delightful flavor it gives to your soups and sauces, your cakes, breadstuffs and desserts—to anything you make with it.

Dab a few drops on the top of the next loaf or biscuits you bake—just before you put them into the oven. Note what a tempting brown the crusts take, and how tender they are.

You'll actually find new joy in cooking when you've used Libby's Milk and heard what your family and guests will say.

It's here in the stores now—Libby's, "the milk that good cooks use." Try it.

KELVINATOR

Electric Refrigeration for the Home

KEEPS MILK SWEET FOR TWO WEEKS

Of course, no housewife would think of keeping milk for two weeks. But the fact that it can be done shows how efficient Kelvinator refrigeration is.

Kelvinator is the refrigerating equipment which fits right into the ice-box you have now. Its refrigeration is fully 10 degrees colder than ice. Kelvinator supplies dry cold and keeps your refrigerator at the same even temperature the year round.

Kelvinator is the oldest electric refrigerating machine made. Owners who have had their Kelvinators for years will tell you of its dependability and its great efficiency.

Write for literature fully describing how Kelvinator works, and how easily it is installed—and for complete list of users in your community.

Kelvinator is so cold that it manufactures dainty cubes of ice for your table. Many women freeze maraschino cherries, sprigs of mint, or violets in these ice blocks. They also make mousses, ices, sherberts, custards, and salads, by placing them in the Kelvinator ice trays for a few hours.

We will be glad to demonstrate the KELVINATOR any Time

Ancient Brick Walls Found

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 24.—Brick walls believed to have been erected 36 centuries before the Christian era have been discovered among the ruins recently unearthed at Ur, the Chaldean city, according to a Bagdad dispatch to the Times.

The correspondent quotes C. L. Woolley, leader of the archaeological expedition, as saying that the ruins comprise the Temple of the Moon God and his consort, part of which were brought to light in 1918. The discoveries in that year, however, uncovered the bachelor quarters of the god, while the ruins now found are believed to have been his harem. A fragment of a stone vase has been dug out upon which is a representation of the moon and his goddess receiving the adoration of the worshippers. The carving is believed to have been done 2,000 years before Christ.

The excavators also discovered in the inner room of the temple some jewelry of the period of Nebuchadnezzar, who rebuilt the shrine in the sixth century, B. C., carefully preserving the original plan. Many alabaster vases and inscribed door sockets have been found. One of the latter bears the inscription "Bursin."

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS RAIDED BY ITALIAN MOB

THREE MILLION GALLONS OF LIQUOR FROM SCOTLAND

(By ROSCOE LIDDELL)

DUNDEE, Scotland, Feb. 24.—Three million gallons of whisky which has nearly left those shores for the "dry" strand of America since the States officially adopted Prohibition.

When Prohibition became law in the States huge quantities of American whisky were imported into this country in casks, and ironical as it may seem, the same liquor in bottles has been exported back to the States. It was supposed to me that these bottles bore the legend "Scotch whisky," but from an authentic source I learned that such a use was hardly likely to escape detection by our Customs officials.

At the present moment there is very little American whisky left in this country. It has practically all been returned to the country where it was manufactured.

The principal source of information is unimpeachable, and so far from being an exaggeration, the statement of the quantity being exported is an understatement. Even while I was making my inquiries, Xanthe whisky touts were busy on the wires attempting to place orders for huge consignments of their clients across the "herring pond."

Rejected orders. The owners "looking for a home" and having difficulty in finding one, reentered 15,000 cases, or 115,000 gallons of whisky.

One Scottish firm was offered an order for 25,000 cases. On inquiring to what port the whisky was to be consigned a report was named but it so happens that this place being legally "dry" the firm has their own accredited agent there. This was explained, whereupon the tour butler inquired, "Oh, but you know where the big demand is, but the firm was adamant, and refused to meet the order."

The "hush-hush" character of the trade has caused reputable firms on this side to shy clear of it. They are perfectly aware that much of the whisky exported from Scotland is the little island of St. Pierre, N. S. W., and British Columbia, is later smuggled into the States and they have no desire to have their names brought before the American authorities in an illicit connection.

The principal pumping-ground for the whisky exported from Scotland is the little island of St. Pierre off the coast of Newfoundland. This island of 35 square miles has 3,403 to a population and it has been perfectly obvious to those in the trade that the whisky consigned to this island has not been for the consumption of its meagre population, whose tastes, as a matter of fact, run to light wines. Hence they are mostly French-Canadians.

The whisky traffic to the States at the present time is greater than it has ever been. The demand for Scotch whisky, which at one time was a very small thing in the States, has now assumed gigantic proportions, and cannot be met.

A Bonnie Reicht. In my quest for information I met Mr. Barry Barnshaw, Secretary of the Scottish Anti-Prohibition Campaign, who has just returned from a trip to America.

"There will be a Bonnie Reicht this time I can tell you. The Scotch people won't be misty any longer by the fairy tales of the alleged boon that Prohibition has been to the United States."

He literally chuckled the above to me. He has come back armed with an imposing array of facts and figures which he claims will convince anybody that Prohibition in America is a pure farce, and has been an evil rather than a blessing to the Yankees.

"The most striking thing about my visit," he said, "was the ease with which I was able to interview all sorts of law-abiding Americans. They seemed to tumble over each other to give me official information."

"The prison population," said Mr. Barnshaw, "has increased enormously and the cases of insanity had increased from 185,514 in 1918, to 195,513 at June 1922."

"They say that Prohibition leads to a saving on police administration. Look at these figures taken for 53 of the largest cities in the States. In 1918 the cost of police administration was $7,875,513; in 1922 it rose to $17,351,739."

Packed Prisons. So far as crime generally is concerned I have been content with believing that the official facts themselves. These show that in over 50 of the largest cities the number of arrests made in 1918 was 1,160,743, and in 1922 that figure had risen to 1,321,164.

I went through most of the prisons and asylums myself, and far from finding them empty I found them more or less full up with inmates.

"I was curious to know," added Mr. Barnshaw, "how people were allowed to manufacture alcohol from grapes at home when it was against the law of their country, and I found that they actually got sanction from the authorities to do so. After learning the ropes I applied myself for a permit, and got a form to fill up, which allowed me to manufacture 'fruit juice' up to 200 gallons, up to a certain percentage of alcohol, for family consumption. Of course the percentage mentioned is a farce, as the grape juice automatically produces alcohol far above the percentage stipulated on paper by the authorities.

Doctors Selling Prescriptions. Here is another curious thing. Doctors in America are allowed 100 prescriptions every 90 days for supplying whisky for medicinal purposes. I have learned that some of the doctors sell their book of prescriptions to the proprietors of the drug stores for a dollar each prescription. The "chemist" then issues at his own price these prescriptions to an customer. There were 2477 criminal cases for contraventions of the Narcotic Act, and in 1922 that number had increased to 5701.

"I may say that whilst in America I had hundreds of opportunities personally of procuring Scotch beverages. There is little or no secrecy about it. In one restaurant I sat down at a small table which had a long cloth almost reaching to the floor. Accidentally I kicked a bottle at my feet, and I discovered it to be a bottle of sauterne wine. I inquired more closely into the matter, and learned that a similar bottle was under every table, waiting for their regular customers."

I was at one big function on one Thanksgiving Day, where there were no less than 250 prominent business men present. Almost each guest I found had brought his own supply of liquor. The result was that there were about 200 bottles of whisky in that club at the time. The amusing thing was that a constable of the city police force was on duty at the door.

Whisky in Baby's Bottles. Probably the funniest incident of the lot occurred at Boston at the annual dinner of the New England Road Builders' Association. There were 1,000 guests and each guest found opposite his plate a regulation baby's nursing bottle of opaque glass with a rubber nipple attached. Needless to say, every one of those innocent-looking bottles, on being sampled, was found to contain Scotch whisky.

"At Detroit I was informed by a high police official of some humorous methods of evading prohibition laws which had come under his personal notice. One of these had been arrested with flasks attached to their legs. Young men have now got the length of having leather attachments to their shoulders to enable bottles of whisky to be carried under their armpits."

HOW WE TRAPPED COUNTERFEITERS

BY AGENT "X".
Of the U. S. Secret Service.

(Special to The Bee.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The bootlegger today is the surest clew to the counterfeiter.

So booze and bootleggers and the bogus labels which bind them together in the great industry of illicit liquor were the original clews the Secret Service followed in a seven-months chase that has just uncovered the most gigantic counterfeiting conspiracy in history.

I am one of the men who worked in the special squad of 130 agents under Joseph A. Palma, chief of the Secret Service in Detroit, to trap 23 ringleaders of the plot in New York. Nearly 50 more have been arrested in other cities, plates and dies and presses have been seized, 1000 dupes of the conspirators are to be arrested in the round-up, and confiscations include $1,000,000 in counterfeit money and -10,000,000 in bogus revenue stamps and liquor labels.

Counterfeiting on Increase.
Prohibition has increased counterfeiting tremendously. There is more today than ever in history.

When we started after this gang we knew the bootlegger would point the way. For prohibition created a new and huge crop of counterfeiters of liquor labels and revenue stamps for use on bootleg booze. During the past year there has been a glut in the bogus label market and prices have dropped.

Result. "Graduates" of the school of label counterfeiting have gone into money counterfeiting. Yet there remains a brisk demand for liquor labels and they have been turning out fake money and fake labels at the same time.

EX-UNDERTAKER
NOW A SLEUTH!

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Undertaker to detective!
That's the jump taken by Joseph A. Palma, chief of the Secret Service squad that rounded up the international gang of counterfeiters.

Palma lives in Detroit. He was born in New York, where he took a course in embalming and became an undertaker on State Island.

"I was always a nut on detective work," he said.

Big, broad and heavy-chested, Palma is 36, has a few black and looks like Caruso.

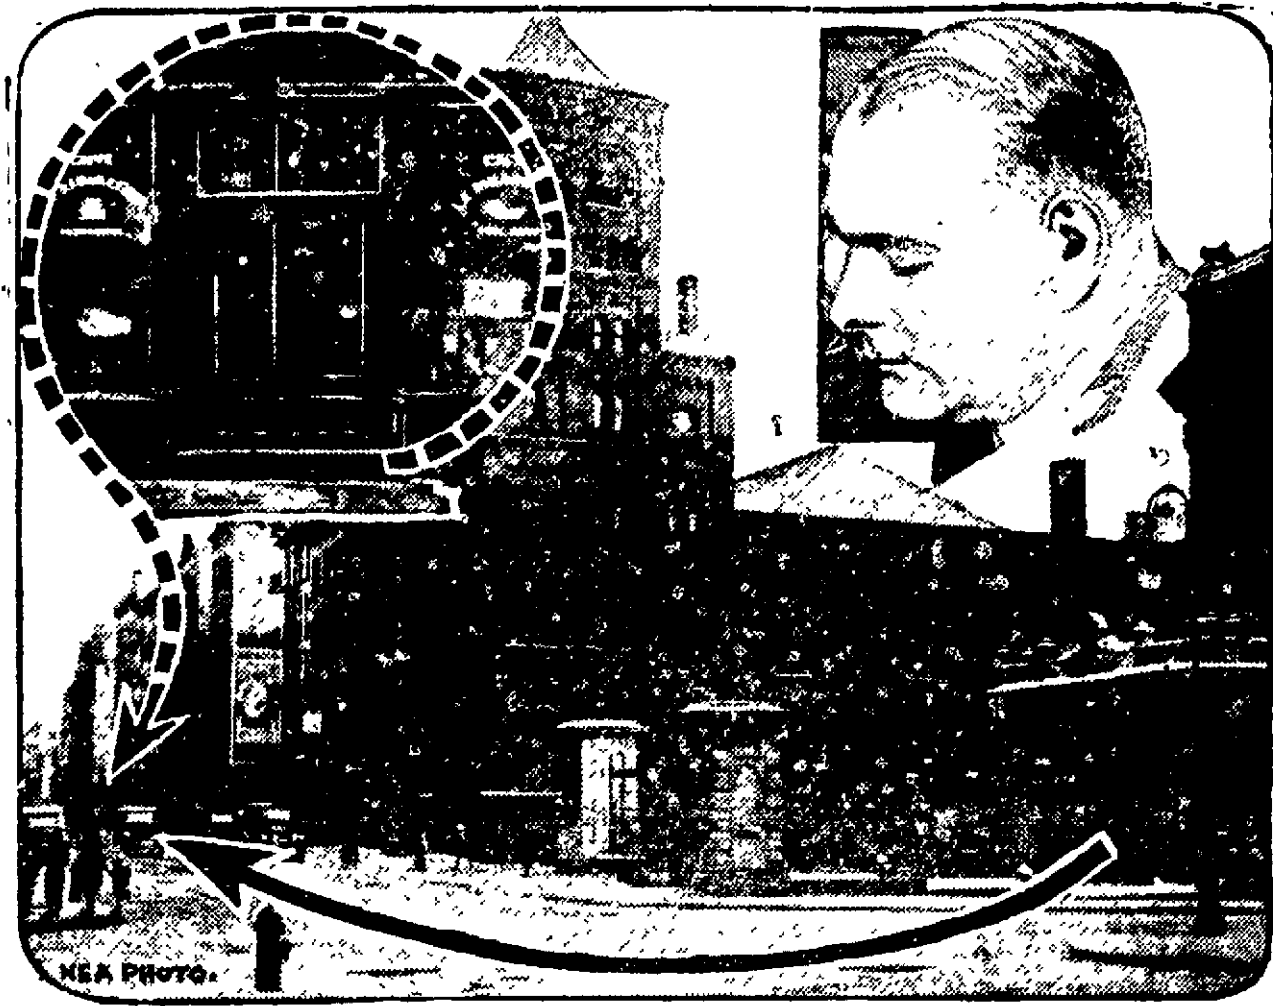

Two children were caught passing counterfeit money in Detroit. Then parents gave a description of the man who gave them the bills. Chief Palma decided New York was the place to begin the hunt.

Our men did two things first in New York. We took up a watch—24 hours a day—on "whisky clubs" of New York. One place where bootleggers gathered was in Broome street, in the shadow of police headquarters.

Combed Records.
The other thing we did, in our office in the Custom House, was to read reports by the thousand of former counterfeiting cases—and liquor label cases. We read those reports patiently and painstakingly, we steeped ourselves in them, we dug into them for casual tips, for the times, clews.

No clew is too small for the Secret Service. The United States government has the time, the men and the money to follow every tip, no matter how insignificant or how absurd it may seem. Ninety per cent of them prove blind and worthless, but we are absolutely sure before we drop them.

So we worked day after day, week after week. Complete secrecy was maintained, there was not a single leak.

Bootleggers. Bogus booze labels occurred nearly a year before in a coffee house at 365 Broome street studying reports, a double killing had

And help was a "whisky curb" near by! Meanwhile the vague description of the man in Detroit given us by the children had been built into a hot trail. He was dealing in counterfeit revenue stamps and liquor labels as well as counterfeit bills of $2, $5, $10 and $20 denomination.

We could have arrested "shovers of the queer"—people who passed the counterfeit currency and sold the bogus stamps and labels. But we were after the ringleaders.

Some of us posed as crooks and got in with the "shovers" and bootleggers. Prices were quoted. There was a regular scale for selling money.

Bogus bills were sold by "retailers" at 50 cents on the dollar. The buyers were "shovers." The "retailers" bought from the "wholesaler" at 35 cents per dollar, the "wholesaler" sold at 25 cents what he had bought from the manufacturer for 17 cents on the dollar.

The counterfeit currency was not of high grade. Revenue stamps and liquor labels were perfect, as fine as anything engraved by the government.

These revenue stamps are made up in books with blue covers, a dozen on a page. Labels of export whisky, gin and champagne come in boxes of 100 labels, to be pasted on the back of bottles, also come in boxes.

Labels Sold in Lots.
Counterfeit booze stamps and labels are sold to bootleggers in sets, including a revenue stamp for the cork and neck of the bottle, a label showing the bonded brand, and a caution label for the back. These sets sell for $2.50 a dozen.

Millions of dollars were made in these booze sets. On the other side of the high with boxes and halves of them—bogus counterfeits valued at ten times as much as the counterfeit currency we seized.

Day and night, afoot, by auto-bile, and even by lookouts stationed in windows of the police headquarters that overlooked the Broome street rendezvous, our men watched the suspects. Daily new names were added to our list.

Manufacturers, we estimated, had made up to $200,000 on the bogus money alone. And more on the booze counterfeit.

Trails Diverge Widely.
Trails led to Greenwich Village, where we found a production plant; to Brooklyn, Long Island and New Jersey, where wholesalers made their headquarters; to the rum-running fleets in isolated coves of the coast, where the gang was fleecing its brother crooks by giving counterfeit money for real imported liquor which was then diluted and doctored and sold under the bogus labels they had made as smuggled stock from the Bahamas.

Always the trail, growing hot, led back to Broome street. Even from abroad, for counterfeit money passed through rum-runners had found its way via the booze route to the Bahamas, Cuba, French and English ports, and even in one instance to Alexandria, Egypt.

After seven months we were ready to strike—at the ringleaders, the small fry, and the dupes. We gathered them all in the net in a single day—all out of tiny original clews.

The greatest counterfeiting conspiracy is broken up. Maximum sentences ringleaders may get is 45 years, 15 years each for making, possessing and passing counterfeit.

IS YOUR SPINE IN LINE?

Perfect alignment of the spine means perfect health. Imperfect alignment means that one or more of the bones of the spine are out of the natural position. This produces pressure on the delicate nerves at the point where they leave the spine. Because the nerve is pinched the brain cannot get the full amount of life force over it. Whatever part of the body this pinches nerve supplies is bound to be weak and diseased, whether it is the heart, stomach, lungs, kidneys, etc., because every cell in the body receives its life force over the nervous system, and if the nerve is pinched this life force is decreased.

MILLIONAIRE IN MORNING, BROKE AGAIN BY NIGHT

ESSEX, Feb. 25.—To be a millionaire every morning after a short visit to the bank and retire every night a pauper hard the bootblack 1000 marks for a shoe shine pay for a modest lunch 2 sum, that in 1914 would have been considered an adequate yearly bourgeois income, paid with the pre-war price of an entire barrel of beer in order to be served with a small glass of Pilsener, are some of the daily experiences of foreign observers of the occupation of the Ruhr.

But smoldering hatred and bitterness on all sides, ill-concealed animosity toward all foreigners, petty pin pricks under cover of obsequiousness, and a deep spirit of revenge bring one back to the fact that this region is under the most hateful of regimes, "Military occupation."

"Let me have a couple of millions" is the common request of acquaintances to whom one would hesitate to lend five dollars in America.

"Dirty swine of a Frenchman" was the salute that greeted an American correspondent when he came out of the post-office the other day conversing in French with some of the Pan-Germans. The Germans never make a mistake about spotting a foreigner and to them all foreigners are French, therefore, hateful.

An American had occasion to run down to Cologne the other day, and as the trains were not operating owing to the strike he was forced to hire an automobile. It was an old model of some years back but running smoothly. It made the trip to Cologne and back without a breakdown and in good time.

"One hundred and forty-five thousand marks," the chauffeur said quite naturally. The American paid without a murmur.

"How much did you pay for this

MARGATE, ENGL., Feb. 24.—E. B. Atherton, formerly of Chicago, has set out on a walk around the world. He hopes to accomplish the self-imposed task within ten years.

For twenty-three years Atherton has wanted to walk around the world and the present is his third attempt. In 1900 he started from Chicago and had been on the road for 13 years when the Balkan War caused an enforced rest. Atherton plans to make a complete circle of the British Isles, thence, across Europe, through France, Belgium, Scandinavia, Russia and the Balkan States, through Turkey into Asia, across Persia to India, China and Japan, the East Indies to Australia, Africa, North and South America, and returning along the Mediterranean Coast.

"Wilson Group" in Senate Approves Harding's Plan

First Consideration of President's Plan to "Go Into" Europe to Be Given Tomorrow.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A resolution to carry out the new administration proposal for American membership in the international court of justice organized by the League of Nations, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator King, of Utah. There was no discussion and it went over indefinitely.

Sen. Robinson of Arkansas, acting Democratic leader, gave out a statement today declaring that on primary study he had a feeling of friendliness for the administration plan but adding that it indicated a policy of timidity and half heartedness by the administration in its foreign policies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The attitude of senators on the administration's sudden request yesterday for authority for the United States to join the international court of justice organized under the League of Nations, failed to develop much more clearly today except for increased indications that action would go over until the December session of Congress.

The first senatorial line-up on the question will come Tuesday at the meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee, called by Senator Lodge, Republican leader, for initial consideration of the plan presented by President Harding in transmitting to the senate the detailed explanation of the administration program by Secretary Hughes.

During the committee meeting, leaders of the "irreconcilable" and "reservationist" groups of Republicans generally withheld open expressions of judgment. Democratic leaders, however, especially of the so-called "Wilson group," were in harmony in according approval.

The attitude of the "irreconcilable" faction, which played a powerful part in preventing ratification of the treaty of Versailles, appeared to be one of suspicion and in some instances, hostility, augured for as bitter opposition to the new proposal as to the league of nations.

Significance was seen in the failure of administration leaders, largely belonging to the "reservationist" group, in the league fight, to come forward with immediate expressions of approval such as are given customarily to administration moves.

League opponents on the Democratic side are coming forward with general endorsement of the aim sought by the administration, but even they are making reservations as to details.

The position of Senators Borah, of Idaho, Johnson, of California, Brandegee, of Connecticut, Moses, of New Hampshire, and McCormick, of Illinois, Republican "irreconcilables," is expected to be developed openly by Tuesday. All are members of the foreign relations committee.

Although Senator Borah recently offered a resolution proposing an international court with a definite international code of laws and jurisdiction, he emphasized at that time that such a court should be distinct from any connection with the league of nations. This circumstance was regarded today as prophetic of Senator Borah's attitude toward the administration plan. Senator Johnson and Senator Reed, of Missouri, a Democratic "irreconcilable," have been noted for their hostility to any dealings or connections however remote, with the league.

COTTON MARKET

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—There was further reaction in the cotton market during today's trading. Liverpool was relatively easy and the opening here was at a decline of 9 to 10 points on scattered selling and southern selling. Trade interests were moderate. Buyers and brokers with Japanese connections bought May delivery. July was called against the May purchases again and the general market slowed net losses of about 9 to 16 points with March selling off to 25.48 and July at 23.63.

Little Girl Has a Narrow Escape

A little girl apparently about seven years of age, had a narrow escape from injury Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock when, while crossing from Main street to Jefferson, she was knocked down by a car driven by Mrs. Meade Flynn. The child stepped out from the sidewalk without warning and but for the fact that the automobile was running slowly, the result would have been more serious. Mrs. Flynn stopped her car almost as it struck the child and the little girl was quickly pulled out from under the car between the wheels which had not touched her.

Efforts to learn the name of the child failed when passers by questioned her. She said she lived on Park street and when it was seen that she had not been injured, she insisted on walking home without giving her name. Enquiries made in the Park street neighborhood this morning, failed to reveal the identity of the child and the police department had received no report on the accident.

MRS. HARDING IS MUCH IMPROVED

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Mrs. Harding, the wife of the president, has made such progress in her recuperation from the severe illness of last year that today she received informally at tea a group of more than 30 women in her private drawing room at the White House. The guests, with one or two exceptions, were newspaper or magazine writers.

Entering the room to greet her guests, it was said, Mrs. Harding walked unaided, erect, briskly, but soon seated herself. In speaking of her illness, she especially mentioned her appreciation of the thoughtfulness for her of the people of the United States and of foreign countries. She also mentioned the country trip to Florida and her hopefulness in its beneficial results.

It was apparent to her guests, however, that Mrs. Harding could not be expected for some time to enter upon any round of formal social duties as mistress of the White House.

MRS. T. RYLAND SANFORD HONORED AT A GEORGE WASHINGTON GTON PARTY

CHATHAM, Va., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Frank Marshall entertained the Sans Souci Club on Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. T. R. Sanford who is soon to make her home in South Boston, Va. Mrs. Marshall's home was attractively decorated with the patriotic colors and ferns. After the guests arrived the hostess presented each one with a card and pencil, at the top of each a small hatchet and the name Washington. On the table in the center of the room were many articles to remind one of some incident bearing on the life of the hero and the ladies were asked to write a story bringing in as many articles as they could remember. There were many good stories, four ladies having to cut for the prize. Mrs. Mumford lived being the lucky one, was given an old-fashioned brooch in which was used pens, needles, thimble, darning cotton, emery buttons and lace, made in different colored pieces. The guest prize, a lovely hand-made linen scarf, was presented to Mrs. Sanford.

Mrs. Hall assisted by Mrs. William Smith, served a delicious course in keeping with the Colonial Days. The favors were miniature Colonial bouquets tied with the cords.

The out of town guests were Mrs. Scott of Washington, and Mrs. E. J. Harvey of Danville.

PATTERNS CENTURIES OLD BORROWED FOR MILADY'S COMING SEASON'S STYLES

(Special to The Bee.)

DESIGNS for the coming season's printed silks have been borrowed from the artistry of many a craftsman long centuries dead.

Egyptian, Persian, Cashmere, Eolians and Pausanias patterns are displayed on the same counters. Some are subtle harmonies in two or three subdued shades; some are motifs of color unclouded.

Next in smartness to printed silks are matelasse fabrics, not only of silk but also of wool crepe and silk combined, or of pure silk combined with fiber.

The brocade pattern may be a stripe, a small geometric design, or a spraying all over effect, and it is almost sure to be so heavy as to resemble thick embroidery.

CORRESPONDENT SUED FOR $25,000

The following account from the Washington Times of a suit filed against John T. O'Brian in Washington for alienation of affection, another man's wife will be of interest. In Danville, the former home of O'Brian, and where he married his second wife.

Charging that his wife's affections had been alienated, A. J. T. Meurer yesterday filed suit in the District Supreme court for $25,000 damages against John T. O'Brian, said to be the owner of an apartment house at 1463 Columbia road northwest. Meurer charges O'Brian had given his wife Helen B. Meurer, expensive presents.

Meurer also has asked for an absolute divorce, naming O'Brian as co-defendant. Mrs. O'Brian has sued her husband for maintenance, charging that he, on February 10 gave her $1, and then ejected her from their home. Mrs. O'Brian asserts her husband committed this action because of his growing affection for Mrs. Meurer.

Meurer says O'Brian first met Mrs. Meurer at a party on New Year's day, 1922. On June 15 last, he avers, O'Brian met Mrs. Meurer in Atlantic City, remaining there several days with her, and returned to Washington with her in an automobile. O'Brian gave a $375 fur coat to Mrs. Meurer. He charged, Meurer married the then Helen B. O'Brian in Columbus, Ohio, March 17, 1913, when she was 19 years old, he sets forth in his complaint. He was 25, he adds. Attorney John Murphy appears for Meurer.

RAILROADS MUST HAVE SUPPORT FOR OPERATION

(By The Associated Press.)
DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 24.—American people must face the proposition of giving the railroads sufficient support to enable them to continue under private ownership, or accepted government ownership, as the alternative, James C. Davis, director general of railroads, declared in a speech before members of the Prairie Club here today.

He said that in his judgment no greater mistake could be undertaken than to have the government permanently take over and operate the railroads. Nevertheless, he declared, private ownership is perhaps making its last stand.

The director general pleaded for a better appreciation of the difficulties of the railroads, so that they will be helped in the painful and laborious struggle which will be necessary to bring them back to normal conditions.

AGREEMENT ON RURAL CREDITS BILL REACHED

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Tentative agreement was reached today by the House Banking Committee on a rural credits bill which both Chairman McFadden and Representative Wingo, ranking Democrat, said they believed could be approved by the various groups in the Congressional row which has attended consideration of the subject. As drawn but subject to final vote by the committee, the bill embraces the Capper and Lenroot-Anderson bill creating a system of intermediate credit banks under supervision of the farm loan bank system but amended the section to limit the capital stock to $50,000,000, passed by the Senate expansion to $120,000,000 would have been authorized. The intermediate credit banks, although under the direction of the farm loan bank directors, will be independent in so far as their assets and liabilities are concerned. Their agricultural paper will be eligible for discount at Federal Reserve Banks. Chairman McFadden expressed confidence that the provision would not be further amended.

Acceptance by the committee of many provisions of the Lenroot-Anderson measure, including the intermediate credit system, permitted the bill sponsors to end to harmonize the differences in the House and permit quick passage of the measure on Tuesday, when it is expected to be taken up. Farm bloc leaders, however, were silent tonight, preferring to have an opportunity to study the measure before expressing an opinion on its acceptability.

ARGUMENT IN HOBACK CASE ON TOMORROW

(By The Associated Press.)
ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 24.—Examination of witnesses was concluded this afternoon at three o'clock in the trial of Fred S. Hoback, who stands indicted on charges of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act while a federal officer, in the federal district court and adjournment was declared by Judge H. C. McDowell was declared until Monday morning at ten o'clock when argument will be commenced. It is expected that the case will go to the jury by Monday evening and it is possible that a verdict will be returned that day. In a statement this afternoon, Major Stuart, of Abingdon, who is conducting the case for the prosecution, said he was not sure Hoback would be tried on national prohibition law violation charges at the conclusion of the present trial, this matter resting with the court. In event this case is opened though, F. Joiner, material prosecution witness who is serving a sentence of from eleven to fourteen years in the eastern state penitentiary at Philadelphia on charges of highway robbery is on hand, having been brought here today by Pringle Officers John P. McGrath and Frank P. Tucker of the Penitentiary.

MURDERERS STAY IN JAIL WHILE OTHERS ESCAPE

(By The Associated Press.)
PULASKI, Va., Feb. 24.—Pulaski county authorities today related the story of two convicted murderers, Roy Ransake and Ros Baumgardner, who refused to escape from the county jail yesterday after two fellow prisoners, W. P. Quisenberry and Roy Stearnes, had picked a manhole in the brick wall of the prison and let themselves to the ground by using their blankets in lieu of ropes. Ransake and Baumgardner, it was said, were liberated from the cell which they occupied jointly, but declined to escape. Quisenberry and Stearnes are still at large. The prisoners who escaped were charged with violation of the prohibition laws and trespass. Quisenberry was serving a sentence of thirty days. Ransake and Baumgardner have sentences of thirty and twenty years, respectively, for the killing of Rufus Sutherland. They were awaiting transportation to the state penitentiary, the Supreme Court having sustained the verdict of the lower court.

RATE INCREASE WOULD FOLLOW UPON CHANGE

(By The Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24.—Principal developments so far in the southern class rate hearing being conducted here before the Interstate Commerce Commission since Monday is the presentation of figures which are declared to show that proposals of the carriers would result in increasing total revenues approximately 18 per cent.

Submission of figures also have been made relative to terminal costs in the district affected and the announcement of the carriers in that they are willing to accept the class relationship schedule as proposed by the shippers, if they are permitted to retain their figures on first class freight rates. During today's session counsel for the Southern Traffic League in cross examining D. M. Goodwyn, traffic manager of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, brought out that shippers would contend for a revision of rates which will preserve present revenue for carriers, thus opposing the proposal outlined by Mr. Goodwyn yesterday which it was declared would result in an increase of approximately ten per cent. over present rates.

Mr. Goodwyn presented part of the carriers' rebuttal yesterday, and most of today's session was consumed in cross examining him. The gist of the carriers' proposal was that intrastate rates be increased to the level of interstate rates. Figures already submitted, it was brought out, show such would result in an increase of approximately 11 per cent. in total revenue.

While on the stand Mr. Goodwyn resumed direct testimony attacking the proposal of the shippers that class rates be determined strictly on the mileage system, and claimed that rates to be computed on this system would disrupt class relationship and change to considerable extent the flow of traffic.

Mr. Goodwyn will take the stand again Monday. It was announced late today that the hearing will last for about 15 more days.

CLEMSON CENTER OF WEEVIL FIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, Feb. 24.—Clemson College, S. C., will be the center of the first series of experiments to seek a more effective way of destroying the boll weevil which will be a part of the national campaign for boll weevil control. Dr. Miller Reeves, director of the campaign, announced here today.

Under the direction of the college and the South Carolina agricultural forces a test will be made of the possibility of using rays to sterilize the eggs of the weevil, thereby diminishing the enormous rate of reproduction of the insect, amounting to twelve million from one pair in one season. The X-ray method of fighting the weevil was advanced by Dr. Hutchison during the recent conference here and is one of the number of new theories for combating the "billion dollar bandit" which will be tried.

Business and Fashion Affected By Tut's Tomb

BY J. C. ROYLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The uncovering of the tomb of Tutankhamen has had the most far reaching effect on the trend of business and fashion than any happening in a generation according to Pierre Cartier, one of the most prominent jewelers in the world. "Fashion follows the news," Cartier said today. "We may therefore expect a decided Egyptian influence in our next jewelry modes as a result of the recent discoveries. These discoveries are bound to have their effect on fashions and art just as Napoleon's return from Egypt in the late seventeenth century had its effect on the style of that day in decorative and applied arts."

But if such an influence can make itself felt, it must be translated through the medium of artists who can adopt an old era to a present day use. France has always been the great interpreter of the past in the arts. It was France which translated the Egyptian influence in the Napoleonic Era and it will be to France and her artists that the task will be left of interpreting the new Egyptian influence to the world.

"Much of the work however will be done in this country," French art interest and artisans are already at work here combining, adding to and subtracting from the essentials of the Tutankhamen period and that of today, creating new designs and patterns to be executed in jewelry.

Demand for copper is developing far faster than the mines are producing. The rise in price to well above the 17 cent mark has stirred mine owners in an effort to increase production but efforts in that direction have been badly hampered by lack of both skilled and unskilled labor.

High prices which had been predicted are being withheld temporarily according to word from Akron today. New price lists which are understood to have shown advances approximating ten per cent were prepared by five companies but it was decided to hold them up for the present at least.

An advance in the Federal Reserve discount rate which was counted on to check speculation in some of the commodity markets has not yet made a noticeable impression in the buying of cottons, woolens, silks and other commodities. In retail lines however the usual pre-easter buying so far has been extremely light. This is attributed to the weather conditions in most sections and merchants are counting on an increased movement within the next ten days.

The slight hardening of money rates has not lessened the tremendous activity in building construction which is moving steadily northward as spring approaches. No difficulty in financing building operations is reported from any section of the country.

The "Kappa" party at the school house on Thursday was very successful. The proceeds will enable the League to make payment on their plane. In spite of having to close the school the first of the month, the teachers, Mrs. W. T. Johnson, Misses E. Holmes and Laura Stone succeeded in getting up a patriotic program on Washington's Birthday. One of the best features of his program was a talk on "Patriotism" by Miss Laura Stone. Besides this, there were a number of appropriate songs, recitations and declamations all being worked together in the form of a play. The teachers were very glad to see so many parties patrons present for this program.
